S. G. AUSTIN & CO.

—Andrew Hennessy is on the sick list.

—A. C. Bardwell is confined at home by illness.

—There is to be a Democratic county convention in this city to-morrow.

—Miss Lou Brown came to-day to visit with Miss Mamie Pankhurst and her many friends.

—Mrs. Joseph Crawford started this morning for New York City for a few weeks vacation.

—There are fifteen cottages in course of erection in Dement Town. How's that for a little boom.

—It is rumored that the Clinton passenger on the North-Western will soon run only to Sterling, as formerly.

—Hennessy & Reilly's advertisement appears in this paper, and housekeepers will do well to make a note of it.

—W. E. Skiff and family will soon move to the residence vacated by Jacob Brubaker's family on Galena street.

—Dixon's favorites, Felix and Eva Vincent, will commence a weeks engagement at Dixon Opera House May 28.

—Miss Bertha Bowlby departed to-day for Chicago, where she will complete her studies in music with Prof. Emil Liebling.

—Twenty-five Sir Knights from Dixon were nicely entertained and banqueted at Sterling last night, where they visited to witness a Red Cross degree inspection.

—Fred Watson has commenced work on the lots he purchased in North Dixon for a home; and is taking down the old buildings preparatory for the erection of a new residence.

—William Pankhurst has a colt that was so frisky that its desire for a bouquet became so strong that it jumped through the roof of the owner's green-house, breaking a few dozen panes of glass.

—The Christian Endeavor Society of the M. E. church will hold a sociable in the vestry Thursday evening, May 17. Members of other Endeavor societies of the city and friends are invited.

—The Y. W. C. T. U. will meet with Miss Steinmann Friday, May 18, at four o'clock. Every member is requested to be present as it is the the time for election of officers. By order of the President.

—There is to be a Democratic caucus at the court house this evening and THE EVENING TELEGRAPH sincerely hopes that the faithful will be there to a man. This is a time when a Democrat should not be backward in coming forward.

—The noxious weed commissioner of Willow Creek, this county says that the National Seed Company's Early Swedish Oats, sold by a Sandwich, LaSalle county, contain Canada thistles. Our readers in the east end of the county better look to this matter.

—Another wedding is being talked about, subrosa, and the indications are that it is now a fixed fact and the happy day designated. The couple have well matured plans for the nuptuals and therefore it is not one of those inconsiderate affairs about which the wise old people can mutter the usual stale chestnut about "marrying in haste to repent at leisure." It is nothing of the sort. The groom was recently a resident of Dixon and is still not very far away. THE TELEGRAPH regrets its inability to give further particulars.

—The fire and water committee of this city, Messrs. Appleford, Julien and Smith, accompanied by O. B. Anderson, visited Sterling yesterday and they speak in high praise of the honors done them there by Mayor Elliot, ex-mayor Street and Superintendent Smith.

—The expenses of having Madame Fannie Bloomfield, the pianist, here are so great that Miss Ella Richards endeavored yesterday and to-day to assure herself of the funds. Nearly two hundred tickets with that object in view have been spoken for. Madame Bloomfield was said to be the finest performer at the Indianapolis musical convention last year.

—Here is an incident that truly illustrates that we should not put off until tomorrow that which can (or should) be accomplished as well to-day. The late Doctor Felker, of Amboy, a few days before his death had made application to Charles Schick, of this city, for a life insurance of ten thousand dollars and the papers were made out and ready, only awaiting some preliminary formalities and payment of the money for the policy, which the Doctor intended to consumate next week; he having some money, he said, coming due then which he intended to apply on the insurance. How true in this instance it is that "Procrastination is the thief of time" Procrastination certainly deprived the Doctor's little family of ten thousand dollars, which amount would have been a good round sum, perhaps needed to tide over the natural business embarrassments that usually result from so sudden a taking off as this of which we write.

—A brief visit at the Riverside shoe factory recently was an interesting occasion and we only regretted that we had not longer time to spend there looking over the sights. Nearly all the rooms appeared to be well filled with operatives who were busy as bees, each at his or her particular work; cutting, sorting, sewing, shaping, pegging, each at some of the many different branches of the work. There are a great many very complicated machines in the factory and as most of them require operatives of experience they are not now run at their full capacity; but will be in course of time. There are machines for sewing on buttons,, making button holes, pegging heels, sewing on soles and for many other purposes, that are very remarkable exhibitions of mechanical ingenuity. A most remarkable and pleasing feature of the management of the Riverside shoe factory is the most excellent discipline that is observed in all the departments. This is the more noticable at this time when we remember that here are gathered from all parts of the county young people who have not been accustomed to such steady employment. The training that these young people are now receiving will be worth more to them in after life, whether or not they continue at the shoemaking business, than all the wages they receive. It is a most excellent schooling for the boys and gilrs. F. A. Watson informs us that he will soon have his cottages completed and he hopes to be able to haye plenty of employes for the shops as soon as houses are provided for them all to live in. We are under obligations to manager J. P. Plummer for courtesies while at the factory. The following gentlemen have charge of the various departments: J. F. Hauser, Cutting room; W. G. Staples, Fitting; W. J. Sinclair, Sole leather; G. F. Reed, Bottoming; J. W. Peach, Finishing; A. M. Barr, Shipping. There are many others in charge of minor departments whose names we did not learn, and George Talcott, engineer, has charge of one of the finest engines in the country. We were pleased with our visit at the Riverside shoe factory and can certainly congratulate Mr. Watson upon the advances that he has made in procuring employes and pushing the concern ahead as energetically as its present condition indicates.

Dr. Deming attended the meeting of the State Dental Association at Cairo.

W. F. Schaffer expects to return to his railroad business at Cherokee, Iowa, soon.

BASEBALL TALK.

Tim Keefe signed with the New York club at a salary of $4,000.

Jim Whitney, of the Washington club, is laid up with pleurisy.

Ed Williamson will enter the throwing tournament at Cincinnati.

Two of the best outfielders produced by the Association last season are Tebeau, of the Cincinnati, and Griffin, of the Baltimore.

Hallman, of the Philadelphia club, started out as a pitcher. In 1885, while pitching for the Atlantic City team, he retired Stovey, of the Athletic club, three times in succession on strikes.

Manager Morrill says of "Smiling Billy" Sowders: "I think he will prove to be one of the finest pitchers Boston has ever had. He delivers the ball as straight and as sharp as an arrow. His actions resemble those of Whitney in many particulars. He is a hitter and a worker."

Two or three parties have claimed the credit of bringing Clarkson out as a pitcher and player, and the right one was not mentioned. The one who gave Clarkson his first lessons in pitching, and gave him that instruction which has formed the basis of his success, was Tom Bond, the famous pitcher of the Boston teams of 1877, '78, '79, '80 and '81.

From Ashton.

Miss Ida Thompson began her school at Flagg Station this week.

No saloon or druggist's license in Ashton during the next year, so it is hoped that our town will not run dry very soon.

Lawyer Trusdell, of Dixon, and prosecuting attorney Baxter, of Rochelle, were in Ashton on Friday last; an inportant law suit is expected to be tried here Friday of this week, in which the above named attorneys will take an active part.

Jas. Brown, Jr., has been very sick for the past few days but he is thought to be out of danger at present.

Mrs. Rosencrans, mother of A. M. Rosencrans, is dangerously sick at the residence of Mr. Geo. Glenn, where she has been visiting her son for the past few weeks. Her recovery is doubtful.

Mrs. Frantz, of Paw Paw, visited her mother, Mrs. Taylor, and the Doctor, last week.

Rev. Mr. Murphy, a Presbyterian of Utah, spoke on the subject of mormanism in the M. E church here last Sunday. The address was listened to with much interest by those present.

Charles Greve, our furniture dealer, is afflicted with erysipelas in the face and eyes. While repairing a table in the furniture store, a piece of broken steel flew into his left eye tearing the membrane which covers the eyeball, starting the inflammation which has resulted as above stated. We hope for speedy improvement. Dr. Taylor attends him.

Mike, "Sterling's city marshal" is noted among tramps for his kicking qualities. They usually steer clear of him. One of them come it on him last week by using Lightning Self Washing Soap; so disguised himself that Mike took him for a respectable citizen from abroad—"Nelson."

Union and United Labor, Democratic, Republican, Equal Rights and Prohibition Getting Their Hosts in Line.

A Multiplicity of Policies Represented in Convention—The Stock So Varied That He Is Hard to Please Who Can Not Find Something to His Mind—Three National Conventions at Work, Besides Numerous State Gatherings.

CINCINNATI, May 16.—The distinction of having two national conventions in session at the same time fell upon this city yesterday when the delegates to the Union Labor and United Labor national conventions met. Although the two organizations profess to have the same object in view, yet they widely differ as to the course that should be pursued to accomplish their purpose, and one common object of the leaders of the two bodies is to find a ground of action upon which they both can operate as one organization. Among the prominent men present as delegates to the two conventions are Robert Schilling and Mrs. Julia Severance, of Milwaukee; John M. Potter and Ben Calvin, of Michigan; George Schilling and Robert Buchanan, of Chicago; Dr. McGlynn and Messrs. McMackin, Barnes and Blakeny, of New York. The United Labor people hold their convention at the Grand Opera house.

ROBT. SCHILLING.

Twenty-eight state are represented at the Union Labor convention as reported to the national executive committee when they met yesterday to settle up at noon the past year's business, and the convention was called to order at the Odeon and the following temporary officers chosen: Chairman, S. F. Norton, Chicago; secretary, J. S. House, Missouri; assistant secretary, I. F. McDonald, Cincinnati; chief sergeant-at-arms, John Burrell; assistant, W. F. Flood, Cincinnati.

The committees on permanent organization, credentials and resolutions were appointed and the convention was about to take recess until 3 p. m. when Hilliard, of Kentucky, offered a resolution that Dr. McGlynn be invited to attend the afternoon session. This created a great commotion, and objections were shouted from all parts of the hall. Hilliard was heard loudly protesting against any attempt to interfere with free speech, but it was no use, the chair decided that his resolution was not in order and the convention took recess.

The convention reassembled at 3 o'clock, but it was nearly 6 before the committee on credentials was ready to present its report. In the interval the platform was occupied by Jesse Harper, of Illinois, Mrs. Marion Todd, and Mrs. Emery, of Michigan. After the report of the committee on credentials had been adopted there was a long and animated debate upon a proposition to allow the delegates from each state to cast the entire vote of such state, no matter whether the actual representation was one or twenty. This was strongly resisted by the western delegates, on the ground that it would give the ten New Yorkers seventy votes and practically put them, with the Pennsylvania and Maine delegates, in control of the convention. Finally the proposition was voted down.

JESSE HARPER.

A communication was received from the United Labor convention, in session at the Grand Opera house, asking that a committee of conference be appointed, and the request was complied with, one delegate from each state represented being elected. Several other committees were appointed and the convention adjourned until 9 o'clock this morning.

Immediately after adjournment the committees went into joint conference, and it is reported that an agreement is likely to be reached upon the basis of the land plank in the Knights of Labor platform

Rev. Dr. McGlynn occupied a front seat in the Grand Opera house when John McMackin, of New York, called to order the national convention of the United Labor party. About 150 delegates were in attendance. W. B. Ogden, of Kentucky, was selected as permanent chairman, and in his speech emphasized the fact that the single-tax theory was the central idea around which the party revolved. A committee was appointed to confer with the Union Labor convention, and the rest of the session was occupied with routine business. The convention adjourned until 10 a. m. to-day.

REV. EDWARD M'GLYNN.

EMPIRE STATE DEMOCRACY.

An Enthusiastic Indorsement of President Cleveland and Governor Hill.

NEW YORK, May 16.—According to the arrangements made by the state central committee Monday night, when the state Democratic convention met at the Academy of Music yesterday, Hon. Frederick R. Coudert was named as chairman pro tempore, and on taking the chair he briefly reviewed the past and predicted the future of the party. In the course of his speech he said: "How different the outlook to what it was even with our sanguine hopes of 1884. Then we could only make promises. Now we can stand upon facts, and we say to all of our fellow-citizens of the country to whom we make pledges: 'Point out a single one that we have broken. [Applause.] We made you promises when we were out of power. Point out one of them we have not kept. [Applause.] You were told that Democratic victory meant financial distress and ruin. Look about you now. When has our name been more honored at home or abroad? When has our treasury been guarded more intelligently or honestly? I ask what promises we have broken, or pledges we have left unfulfilled. I refer you to the history of the last three years." Continuing, he spoke in terms of eulogy of the administration of President Cleveland and indorsed the tariff message, after which the usual committees were appointed and recess taken to 7 p. m. The attendance at the convention was very large, and the hall was packed with delegates and members of the party. Mr. Coudert's speech was frequently applauded, and the enthusiasm all over the chamber was high.

At 9 o'clock Chairman Coudert called the convention to order. G. Clancy, chairman of the committee on credentials, reported favorably on all the sitting delegations. The committee on permanent organization recommended that the temporary organization be made permanent, and also reported the names of a number of vice presidents. The reports were adopted.

The committee on resolutions reported a series of resolutions strongly indorsing the national administration and instructing the delegates of the convention to support Mr. Cleveland for renomination. The resolutions close as follows:

In the light of such achievements, in recognition of faithful public service, to the end that reforms already inaugurated may be fully completed, and in strict obedience to the mandate of the Democratic and Independent voters of the state, the delegates selected by this convention are instructed to present to the national Democratic convention the name of Grover Cleveland as their candidate for the presidency of the United States. [Great applause and long continued.] And said delegates are further instructed to act as a unit in all matters intrusted to their charge, said action to be determined by the vote of a majority of the delegates.

They were adopted with tremendous applause and then Chairman Herrick also reported the following: "That the administration of Governor David B. Hill [great and long continued applause, ending in three cheers for Hill,] merits and has the hearty respect of this convention." The resolutions were all adopted, another series of cheers for Governor Hill following the announcement.

An eloquent eulogy on the Democratic party and its leader, Grover Cleveland, was delivered by Daniel Dougherty.

Roswell P. Flower, of New York; George Raines, of Rochester; Alfred C. Chapin, of Brooklyn, and Edward Cooper, of New York were chosen by the committee on delegates as delegates-at-large to the national Democratic convention; Governor Hill's name was put in nomination as a delegate-at-large, but received only five votes; and this action was ratified by the convention. The electors at large are: Oswald Ottendorfer, of New York, and Wilson S. Bissell, of Buffalo.

At 9:42 p. m. the convention adjourned without day.

ASSEMBLY OF OHIO DEMOCRATS.

Dayton Permeated by Politics—Meeting of Clubs—The Delegates-at-Large.

DAYTON, O., May 16.—Preliminary to the meeting of the state Democratic convention the city is crowded with delegates and politicians from all parts of the state, and politics is the subject that has precedence over everything else. The hotels are full of people, and their halls and lobbies resound with the utterance of opinions on the result of the convention, the tariff debate and cognate matters. Yesterday afternoon was taken up with the meeting of the Ohio league of Democratic clubs. The clubs assembled in the opera house, and E. M. Heisley, of Cleveland presided. Delegates to the national convention of clubs to be held at Baltimore, Md., July 4, 1888, were selected, the chosen ones being as follows: E. M. Heisley, of Cleveland; Hon. James E. Neal, of Hamilton; Col. W. A. Taylor, of Columbus; Squire Matt Martin, of Columbus; John F. Neilan, of Hamilton; Judge Dennis Dwyer, of Dayton; Fred Klemper, of Cincinnati; Hon. J. E. Mano, of Canton.

At night all interest was centered in the various committees from the twenty-one districts in the state, which were in session preparing their reports to be read at the 10 o'clock session this morning. The selection of the four delegates-at-large to the St. Louis convention, and the four alternates seems to be the all-absorbing feature outside of the committee rooms, but it was generally conceded that the four lucky men would be Hon. Thomas E. Powell, of Columbus; Hon. S. Brice, of Lima; Hon. Charles W. Baker, of Cincinnati, and L. E. Holden, of Cleveland.

Frank Hurd, Toledo's great free trader, had a row with the conductor on the Little Branch road between here and Xenia last evening, and got off in a corn field, and after studying agriculture for a while walked back to Xenia and took the next train for this place. The conductor on the main line took Frank's ticket and gave him a check, which the Branch conductor refused to honor. The first conductor should have given Mr. Hurd his ticket back.

SOME REPUBLICAN POLITICS.

A Blaine-Sherman Conflict in Alabama—Other Conventions.

MONTGOMERY, Ala., May 16.—The Republican state convention was called to order here at noon yesterday. Two temporary chairmen, representing the Blaine and Sherman factions in the party, were selected, and as a result disorder and confusion prevailed for several hours. At 5 p. m. Arthur Brigham, chairman of the state executive committee, mounted the platform, and declaring that neither of the temporary presiding officers had been regularly elected, called for another ballot. Albert Boyd (colored) of Birmingham, was finally elected temporary chairman, and after the appointment of a committee on credentials a recess was taken.

MINNEAPOLIS, Minn., May 16.—There was a lively time at the Fourth district Republican convention held here yesterday. R. B. Langdon, of Minneapolis, and W. J. Freaney, of St. Paul, were elected delegates to Chicago. Alternates—C. H. Chance, of Wright county, and L. M. McKusick, of Anoka. Resolutions were adopted requesting the delegates to vote for Blaine in case his name was before the national convention.

SANTA FE, N. M., May 16.—The Republican territorial convention yesterday elected delegates to the Republican national convention. Resolutions were adopted denouncing President Cleveland's administration and his appointees in this territory, the surveyor general and other federal officials sent here to investigate land entries, declaring in favor of protection and demanding honest elections.

DENVER, Colo., May 16.—The Republican state convention at Pueblo yesterday elected H. R. Walcott, William A. Hamill, J. W. Wingate, C. W. Donaldson, John H. Henderson and Irving Hawbert delegates to the national convention. They were not instructed.

ILLINOIS PROHIBITIONISTS.

Largest Convention Ever Held in the State and Very Enthusiastic.

SPRINGFIELD, Ills., May 16.—The Prohibition state convention held here yesterday was the largest ever held by the third party in this state. There were about 1,300 delegates in attendance, and some of the congressional delegations had to go into the galleries to obtain seats, the capacity of the floor being insufficient to accommodate them. Some 200 or 300 of the delegates were women, but the great majority of the convention was composed of gray-haired men.

It was an enthusiastic gathering and the speeches were received with noisy demonstrations. John W. Hart, of Rockford, chairman of the state central committee called the convention to order and Hon. James Lamont, the solitary Prohibition representative in the last general assembly, was made temporary chairman. Both made speeches and both arraigned the two old parties as unfit to receive the suffrage of the people. Permanent officers were then selected as follows: President Dr. Jarvis G. Evans, of Iroquois county; secretary, R. A. Burnett, of Cook county.

Upon taking the gavel Dr. Evans paid his compliments to the Democrats and Republicans and another scene of wild enthusiasm followed. It was decided that counties be limited in voting to the number of delegates actually present, and several thousand dollars were raised for campaign expenses.

The convention took recess until evening, when a mass-meeting was held and the following delegates-at-large to the national convention chosen: Frances E. Willard, of Cook county; James Lamont, of Winnebago county; J. B. Hobbs, of Cook county; Hale Johnson, of Jasper county. The alternates are: Mary A. West, of Cook; J. C. Pepper, of Mercer; Davie J. McCullough, of Peoria; Jacob Hoofstittler, of Whitesides.

ANOTHER NATIONAL CONVENTION.

It Voted by by Mail and Nominated Mrs. Belva A. Lockwood.

DES MOINES, Ia, May 16.—The national convention of the Equal Rights party met in this city yesterday afternoon. The convention was called to order by Mrs. Nettie Sanford Chapin, of Marshalltown, chairman of the national committee. Arrangements had been made so that delegates unable to attend could send ballots by mail. The ballots thus received showed the following result: For president of the United States, Belva A. Lockwood, of Washington; for vice president, Alfred H. Love, of Philadelphia. Each received 510 votes, and were declared duly nominated. There were forty votes scattering for Blaine, Allison, Gen. Clinton B. Fisk, Elizabeth Cady Stanton, Susan B. Anthony, and others. The convention adopted a platform favoring woman suffrage, pensions for all needy soldiers and sailors, protective tariff with free sugar and lumber, and repeal of the tax on whisky and tobacco, and against unrestricted immigration, after which the convention adjourned sine die.

Carnegie Going to Meet Blaine.

PITTSBURG, Pa., May 16.—Andrew Carnegie expects to spend several days in this city examining his various business interests prior to his sailing to Europe. He expects to meet Mr. Blaine and family in London on June 6, when the party starts on a coaching trip through England and Scotland, embracing 700 miles, over an entirely new route. He has heard from Mr. Blaine recently, and says that he is in excellent health.

This Is Denby's Own District.

EVANSVILLE, Ind., May 16.—The First district Democratic congressional convention, held at Princeton, Ind., yesterday, nominated Hon. William F. Parrett for congress. The platform indorses the administration of President Cleveland and also the entire state platform and instructs delegates to support Governor Isaac P. Gray for vice president at the St. Louis convention.

Governor "Bob" Gets the Nomination.

NASHVILLE, Tenn., May 16.—Governer R. L. Taylor was nominated by the Democratic state convention yesterday. The opposition broke on the fortieth ballot, Taylor receiving nearly all the votes. His nomination was made unanimous, after which the convention adjourned.

REFUSED TO CONSOLIDATE.

The Methodist Conference Rejects a Report—Visit to Mrs. Grant.

NEW YORK, May 16.—With Bishop Andrews in the chair the Methodist conference proceeded to business yesterday, the first thing being the calling of the roll for the last time this session for reports, resolutions, etc., from conferences. One resolution offered was for an inquiry into the expedience of organic union between this church and the Church South and African church.

BISHOP ANDREWS.

The report of the commission on consolidating the church institutions was made proposing the consolidation of the missionary society and board of foreign missions, home missions with church extensions, and Sunday School union with tract society. The report was rejected on a show of hands. The election of bishops was postponed to May 24.

At the conclusion of the afternoon session about 200 of the delegates who had served under Gen. Grant in the war called upon Mrs. Grant, and were in turn presented to her by Gen. Fisk. Before taking their departure the delegates sang the "Sweet Bye and Bye."

Killen Willing to Fight Cardiff.

ST. PAUL, Minn., May 16.—A representative of The Dispatch called on Killen yesterday morning and interrogated him relative to the Killen-Cardiff fight. Killen stated that he had arranged to give a sparring exhibition in St. Paul on the first Saturday evening in June, and that he is willing to fight Cardiff a ten or fifteen round contest two weeks after that date. He says if Cardiff means business he will go to Minneapolis or Cardiff can come to St. Paul. Killen said: "It has come to a show down now, and I will meet Cardiff on any reasonable terms."

Stove Manufacturers in Council.

PITTSBURGH, Pa., May 16.—Sixty delegates, representing 100 stove factories, were present at the opening session of the annual convention of the National Association of Stove Manufacturers, which convened in this city yesterday. Fifty other delegates arrived in the afternoon. During the convention the constitution will be revised; the term of credit reduced from four to three months; an effort made to restrict the cost of patterns, and an effort made to increase the price of stoves. The wage question also promises a lively discussion.

Killed in a Council Chamber.

CINCINNATI, O., May 16.—C. W. Phillips, a carpenter, was shot and instantly killed in the council chamber at Carthage last night by Marshal Bowen. Phillips requested the marshal to arrest a man for an alleged offense, but he refused to comply without a warrant. Angry words were exchanged between the two men, when Phillips drew a marshal's aim was more accurate, and Phil revolver and fired at Bowen without effect. The lips fell mortally wounded. Bowen came to this city and gave himself up to the sheriff.

This reduction amounts to 10 cents per 100 pounds on first-class from New York to Chicago.

Thirty Thousand Dollars for a Boy's Legs.

JANESVILLE, Wis., May 16.—A verdict for $30,000 was given the plaintiff in the case of Heddler vs the Northwestern railroad yesterday morning. Plaintiff's boy of 7 years was run over by a switch engine and both legs cut off while endeavoring to go over an unguarded crossing.

The Baptist Home Mission Meeting.

WASHINGTON CITY, May 16.—The eleventh annual meeting of the Women's Baptist Home Mission society was begun in the Calvary Baptist church yesterday morning. Mrs. J. N. Crouse presided, and after the delegates had been welcomed to the city by a local delegate she submitted her annual report. The report of the secretary, Mrs. Mary C. Burdette, was read by another in her absence on account of illness. Upon its conclusion a general discussion followed on the work in the south. Standing committees were appointed. The treasurer's report was submitted, and the convention adjourned until night.

A Very Narrow Escape.

HANCOCK, Mich., May 16.—President Agassiz, General Manager Whiting and Superintendent Wright, of the Hecla Mining company, had a very narrow escape from death yesterday. By a mistake of the signal-bell they were hoisted 1,000 feet on the skip at the South Hecla and were almost dumped headlong from a considerable height into a car in the shaft-house on the surface. The Calumet and Hecla mines are now free of fire and gas.

The Sothern Pacific Consolidation.

BUTTERWORTH ON THE ISSUE.

The Ohio Member Makes a Vigorous Speech for the Protective Principle.

WASHINGTON CITY, May 16.—The protective policy was upheld in a long speech yesterday in the house by Butterworth of Ohio. The speech was a forcible one, bristling with statistics, and received the warmest commendation of the opponents of the Mills bill on the floor. He began by declaring that the question at issue was not whether the tariff system could be improved by a careful and just revision, but whether the economic principle of protection was right, and he insisted that the bill under discussion aimed to destroy the protective system itself—not to adjust that system so as to make it fair to all interests. Continuing, he said that we no longer needed capital or plants, and in skill and cunning the American workingman asked no odds. Capital and skill were here, but starvation wages were not here and never would be so long as the Republican party wrote the laws of the country. Tariff, he said, was the parent of the influences that multiplied industries, and the history of the country's development would show that the protective tariff was indispensable to the cultivation of the genius which diversified industries.

In making a comparison between the sections where protection prevailed and the states where free trade philosophy existed, he called Ohio to the front. It paid in wages $6,000,000 more than all the thirteen southern states. Yet those states had a population of 15,000,000, while Ohio had only a little over 3,000,000. Whose fault was it that these states were not manufacturing states? Nature had been prodigal in her gifts to the south; God had blessed that section beyond compare; but it had not consented to bless itself. It was the fault of the south, or rather it was the fault of the faith whose works so condemned it. He claimed that the north and west invented and manufactured everything the south used, from a toothpick to a cotton-gin, and argued that it would be unwise to entrust the industries of the country to the hands of men who had shown neither the ability nor the disposition to have industries of their own. Turning to the wool question, he said that the free trade philosophy created an active concern for the sheep while the Republican philosophy created an active concern for the shepherd.

Stone of Kentucky said that capital only was aided by the protective system. The farmers were getting tired of being taxed for the benefit of a few others. He gave the Republican party full credit for abolishing slavery, but the fact should not be lost sight of that protection had made slaves of 20,000,000 of laborers by requiring them to pay an unjust tribute to monopoly.

THE IMMENSE LOSS BY THE SNY LEVEE GIVING WAY.

More Than $1,500,000 Damage Done Already and One Life Lost—The Mississippi River Continues to Rise, Threatening a Still More Tremendous Havoc—Watching the Embankment at Hannibal—Homeless Farmers.

QUINCY, Ills., May 16.—The Mississippi river at this point continues to rise, and is now eighteen feet and nine inches above low water mark, being within four inches of the 1881 mark. The rise since 6 o'clock yesterday morning has been four inches. The river at this point is fully ten miles wide, and the destruction will certainly foot up $1,000,000 or more along the Adams county river frontage alone, while the losses for the same frontage on the Missouri side will be more than half that amount.

It is claimed that 10,000 to 15,000 acres of wheat is submerged and will be ruined, and it promised to be the best crop of wheat raised in the leveed district of this coun.. for years. Besides the wheat thus destroyed many thousands of acres of corn were planted, and even though the floods subside soon a very large per cent. of this crop can not be replanted this season. The direct loss to farmers in the Indian Grave levee district alone is now estimated at $500,000, aside from the damage to levees.

The Sny levee district embraces the great Mississippi river bottom from this city to the mouth of the Illinois river, and is one of the most productive tracts of land in Illinois, and it is now believed that most of the immense acreage of wheat in that district will be destroyed. A very large portion of this land is in Pike county. The damage done to the tracks of the O. M. & P., the Hannibal & St. Joe, and the St. Louis, Kansas & Northwestern railroads across the river from this city can not be ascertained until the floods subside. The tracks of the Carthage branch and the Louisiana branch of the Chicago, Burlington & Quincy company, both on the east side of the river, are also badly damaged.

No mail has reached Canton and La Grange, Mo., for nearly a week, except by boat from this city. Mail and express matter for the O. M. & P. line has to be taken by skiffs from this city to a point in Missouri four miles distant, and there placed on the trains. All trains on the St. Louis, Kansas & Northwestern line are abandoned and will not run again for many days, there being fully five feet of water over many miles of track opposite this city.

One woman was drowned in the Indian Grave district while trying to rescue her property. Very little loss of live stock has been reported, as it was mostly driven to the highlands before the levees broke. A num- of farmers narrowly escaped drowning while rescuing their household goods.

Along the river front in this city but little damage has been done, but four inches more rise will cause the shutting down of the extensive paper mills and also the Quincy Metal Wheel works, as the water is now within a few inches of the fires in the engine-rooms. The Tellico flouring mills will also have to close with four inches more rise. The entire basement of Blomes, Wolf & Michael's extensive packing house is flooded, but the contents were saved. The floors of the Diamond Jo and St. Louis & St. Paul Packet companies' wharf-houses are under water, and the largest of the city water-works pumps can not be operated.

Rain fell here all day yesterday, and it is feared the worst of the flood is yet to come.

Threatening Situation at Hannibal.

HANNIBAL, Mo., May 16.—At 8 o'clock last night the gauge indicated only fifteen inches below the highest water ever known here. Steadily the rise continues at the rate of six inches every twenty-four hours. The great Sny levee still holds in this vicinity. The chief engineer and commissioners of the levee have established their headquarters at East Hannibal, where they are directing the 300 men and teams who, since the danger-line was reached, have been actively at work strengthening the embankment. Yesterday in several places water flowed over the top of the levee, but the vigilance of the watcher's averted a break, the low places being raised before serious damage could be done.

All day an endless stream of wagons containing the families of farmers wended their way toward this city, having abandoned their homes and crops. It is now believed that no loss of life will result, as the levee lands are practically deserted. The best posted men say that there will be, at the lowest calculation, a further rise of eighteen inches here, which will be three inches higher than ever before recorded.

Cyclone in Arkansas.

ST. LOUIS, Mo., May 16.—Advices from Baxter county, Arkansas, say a destructive cyclone passed over that county a day or two ago. Almost everything on the farms of Mr. Helvy and Mr. Wells was destroyed. The house of H. Dane was badly damaged. The dwelling of R. P. King was lifted up and blown away, leaving the family sitting on the ground floor. Mrs. King was severely injured. At Lone Rock the store and blacksmith shop of I. H. Cockrun, were blown to pieces and the goods scattered about, and I. A. Landruth's saw-mill and two dwellings were destroyed. The damage to farmers is heavy. No lives are reported lost. The storm crossed White river at Matley's Knob and did great damage there.

HOW TO PLAY BALL.

Boston Shows Chicago—Unique Reception for the Hub Athletes.

CHICAGO, May 16.—Anson's pets met the $20,000 aggregation of talent which Spalding has sold to the Boston base ballists during the past two years yesterday, and were given a bad shaking up in the first game the two heavy teams of the league have met each other this season. It seemed evident that playing with Clarkson was not a good way to learn his curves, and that the first thing the Chicago boys want to do is to study said curves very attentively now they are playing against the great twirler.

It was a great base ball day all round for Boston. As soon as the bean-eaters had arrived they were the cynosure of all (base ball crank) eyes at the Leland hotel. When the home club received notice of the distinguished arrivals they proceeded to put into motion the reception they had arranged for them, and carriages were driven to the Leland containing the Chicago boys dressed in new suits of black and gray, with clawhammer coats and silk hats. Seats had been reserved for the visitors, a brass band engaged, and with colors flying and music playing the procession proceeded to the ball park.

So far all had been lovely for the home club; their troubles—like the young bear's—were to come, and they came with great promptness. The Bostonians were not going to return the compliments of the day by losing a game for the pennant, and they didn't. They just proceeded to slug Van Haltren's balls all over the ground, but for appearances' sake let their opponents have 20 per cent. of the runs made. The "stars"—Clarkson and Kelly—handled the Boston battery in great shape, and Van Haltren and Darling did the work for the Chicagoans. The score was 20 to 5 in favor of the visitors. That was all; except that all this was done in six innings. Suppose the whole game had been played!

The other league games resulted as follows: At Pittsburg—New York 3, Pittsburg 3—eleven innings, darkness; at Detroit—Washington 5, Detroit 11; at Indianapolis—rain.

American association: At Cleveland—Cleveland 7, Brooklyn 3; at Philadelphia—Baltimore 3, Athletics 12; at Cincinnati—Cincinnati 8, Louisville, 4; at St. Louis—rain.

Western association: At Minneapolis—Minneapolis 12, Milwaukee 5; at Omaha—Omaha 0, Des Moines 5; at St. Paul—St. Paul 9; Chicago 7.

Wet grounds and rain postponed the playing at Davenport, Ia., and Bloomington, Ills., in the Inter-state league.

Sale of Blooded Horses.

CLEVELAND, O., May 16.—Fasig's annual auction sale of horses began at the Cleveland Driving park yesterday. The horses sold were from the stables of W. J. Gordon, of this city, and James Temple, of Philadelphia. Forty-nine were disposed of altogether, the aggregate price amounting to $32,685. The following is a list of those of which the price reached $1,000 or over: From W. J. Gordon's stable—Kittie Wilkes, $2,000; Miss Wilkes, $2,050; Miss Leontine, $2,500; Susie D., $4,100; Rival, $1,500; Nonchalance, $1,300; Angie W., $11,000. From James Temple's stable—Chance Bismarck, $1,075; Merva, $1,315; Waiting, $1,200.

A Train Plunges Into a Wash-Out.

TRINIDAD, Col., May 16.—Meager particulars have reached here of an accident on the Fort Worth & Denver railroad, which occurred Monday night, between Clayton, N. M., and Clarendon, Tex. A waterspout broke there and washed out a portion of the track, into which a passenger train plunged, in the darkness, without warning, the coaches piling up on the engine. Samuel Bush, the fireman, was killed, and Engineer Call Priest was buried beneath the wrecked engine and terribly injured. None of the passengers were seriously injured.

SENATE GETTING READY.

Investigation of the Tariff Ordered—Important Amendment to the Pension Bill.

WASHINGTON CITY, May 16.—A resolution was adopted in the senate yesterday authorizing the finance committee to make a careful examination into the mattter of tariff revision, and giving the committee all the powers necessary to make the investigation complete. A joint resolution for an amendment to the constitution giving the District representation in congress was referred. The report of the committee in the Turpie case was adopted. The house bill applying the eight-hour law to letter carrier was passed. It gives the carriers extra pay for all over eight hours they work. The animal industry bill lost its position as unfinished business, and went to the calendar, and the pension appropriation was taken up, and an amendment increasing the aggregate to $80,473,000 agreed to. An amendment proposing to strike from the house bill the words: 'That in all pensions to widows payments shall be made from the date of the death of the husband," and to substitute for them: "That all pensions which have been or which may hereafter be granted under the general law regulating pensions to widows, in consequence of death occurring from a cause which originated in the service since the 4th of March, 1861, shall commence from the date of the death of the husband," was opposed as general legislation on an appropriation bill and a point of order taken against it. A long discussion ensued, but the amendment was finally decided in order, Ingalls and Edmunds voting with the Democrats against its admission. It was stated that it would apply in 1792 cases and cost $800,000. The bill then went over without action on the amendment, and the bill to establish a department of labor was taken up and debated, but it also went over, and after an executive session the senate adjourned.

The house agreed to meet on Wednesday, Thursday and Friday of this week at 10 a. m., then transacted some routine business and resumed the tariff debate in committee of the whole. Buttterworth, Henderson of Illinois, Grout and Seymour opposed the Mills bill and Buckalew and Stone defended it, and at 5:30 the house took recess, assembling again at 8 p. m., when Abbott of Texas defended and Darlington and Jackson of Pennsylvania and Owen of Indiana opposed the Mills bill. The house adjourned at 10 p. m.

THE BARD TAKES THE PURSE.

A Great Race Run on a Muddy Track—Other Sporting Matters.

NEW YORK, May 16.—About 10,000 persons were at the Brooklyn Jockey club yesterday to see the great race for the Brooklyn Handicap, valued at about $6,575 to the winner. The track was fetlock deep in mud, and it rained heavily up to the second race. The first race was a ⅝ mile dash, and was won by Britannic in 1:05. Dry Monopole took the stakes in the 1 1-16 miles in 1:56¼, and Oregon was winner in the ½ mile race in 0:51.

Then came the event of the day, the Brooklyn Handicap, 1¼ miles. After some delay at the post the horses got a good start, with Exile first and Grover Cleveland next. Passing the grand stand Saxony and Hanover were leading, with Favor close up. Coming into the home-stretch The Bard was half a length behind Hanover, but after passing the sixteenth pole The Bard shot ahead and came in a winner by a length from Hanover, with Exile third, four lengths away. Time, 2:13. The last two races were won as follows: America, ½ mile, 0:52¼; Letretia, 1 mile, 1:47.

The Racing at Louisville.

LOUISVILLE, Ky., May 16.—Five good races were run on the second day of the Jockey club meeting, and the track was in fine condition and fast. The winners were: Annie Claire, ½ mile, 0:49; Egmont, ¾ mile, 1:13¼; The Lioness, ⅝ mile, 1:03¾; Long Roil, ⅞ mile, 1:31¾; Roi d'Or, 1 mile, 1:44.

A MOB OF LABORERS.

Two Men Beaten Almost to Death at Ashland, Wis.

ST. PAUL, Minn., May 16.—A special to The Dispatch from Ashland, Wis., says: The steamers Ketcham and Louisiana, coal laden from Toledo, are lying at the Columbus Hocking Coal company's dock virtually tied up. The longshoremen are on a strike for higher pay, which action was begun yesterday morning by order of the union. The union demands 14 cents per ton, or 50 cents an hour. Trouble is apprehended, as the union men threaten to prevent "scabs" from working. Several special policemen have been sworn in, and around the docks there are some lively scenes every hour.

A non-union crew was put to work unloading the steamer Ketcham, and when they quit work last evening a big mob attacked them with clubs and stones. John Driscoll, foreman of the new crew, was hit on the head by a brick and then beaten almost to death. Roy McLain was beaten into insensibility at his own doorway.

"There was an old woman who lived in a shoe,
She had so many children she didn't know what to do."
To keep them all clean was a work of much skill—
To let them go dirty was quite 'gainst her will.
Now, "if care killed a cat," 'tis plain to be seen,
There was fear of her dying in the attempt to keep clean
The ten heedless children who vied with each other
In making hard work for this poor worried mother.
She looked with a feeling akin to despair
On the heaps of soiled clothing that fell to her share,
When "blue Monday" came with its steaming soapsuds,
For cleansing from dirt all these shabby old duds,
Though she rose with the lark, her work was behind;
To make her task lighter no way could she find—
'Til a friend brought Santa Claus Soap to her aid.
A wonderful change in her work was then made;
No longer discouraged—a heart full of hope,
She sings of the virtues of Santa Claus Soap.

THE PARISIAN NEWSPAPERS.

The Newsboy Unknown on the Streets of the French Capital.

One of the most characteristic street cries of London and of New York is never heard in Paris, nor is one of the most picturesque figures in the streets of London and of New York ever seen in the streets of Paris, for in France the noisy and pertinacious newsboy is unknown. The functions of this unstable disseminator of intelligence are filled in Paris by the staid old dame who sits at the receipt of custom in a kiosque. A Parisian kiosque has nothing oriental but the name. It is a little sentry box of glass, just large enough to shelter the news vender from the changeable weather of the French capital. On a little stand in front of the kiosque are tiny heaps of the countless newspapers of the city, and on strings on each side are pendant numbers of the chief illustrated journals, artistic and comic. These kiosques are scattered along the boulevards, and from them the Parisian buys his Figaro in the morning and his Temps at 5 in the afternoon.

This difference of attitude between the hurrying American, who has to have his newspaper brought to him in haste hot from the press, and the leisurely Frenchman, who is content to pick up his paper when he goes abroad—this difference is far more than external; it is essentially typical of the irreconcilable difference between the French journal and the English or American newspaper. For one thing, the French journal is not a newspaper in the American sense of the word—and of a truth it does not pretend or desire to be. The Figaro now and again makes a ludicrous claim to the ubiquitous omniscience of The London Times or The New York Herald, but this is not to be taken seriously. The fact is, that while the primary quality of a good English or American paper is news, the primary quality of a good French paper is not news, but criticism—criticism of politics in the first place, of course, and, in the second, criticism of commerce, of law, of finance, of science, of art, of literature, and of the drama.

The aim and ideal of the best French editors is to present not so much the minor details of a fact, but the best possible opinion on the fact. Of mere brute news, minute particulars of scandals, crimes and horrors, such as we here in America have dumped upon our breakfast table every morning, with all the accompanying repetition and accumulation of uninteresting fact—of all this the reader of the Parisian journal sees little or nothing. The childish or unintelligent thirst to know what has happened, regardless of the importance of the event, has not yet been developed in France by the rivalry of scrambling editors; and it may be asserted without fear of contradiction that even if they could have it without cost and without trouble, French editors would refuse to print most of the trivial trash which cumbers the columns of even the foremost American papers.

It is not that some Parisian papers do not print trivial trash and trash worse than trivial; the difference is rather in aim, the French editor thinking first of criticism and the American editor only too often thinking of mere news—first, last and all the time. Yet the leading principle which should govern even in news gathering is better understood in Paris than in London or New York. This is the principle which has been aptly called the "perspective of news," and by virtue of which a trifling accident in the immediate neighborhood is of more importance than a great calamity 1,000 miles away. As Villemessant concisely put it, "A dog run over on the Boulevard des Italiens is of more consequence to The Figaro than an earthquake in Australia." If we substitute for the injured dog a picture exhibited or a new play produced, we have just the things about which the Parisian papers give the most news.—Brander Matthews in The Century.

Wife of the Heir Apparent.

None of the girls met with Germany's crown prince. He traveled with his wife and sister through the Tyrol, stopping at the ordinary inns, but riding in his own car or carriage. The two women with him startled our girls by the plainness of their attire. Fancy the wife of the heir apparent of Prussia in a chip jockey hat, with a bit of ribbon and a guinea hen's feather in front, and clad in a suit of brown lady's cloth, with a little braiding on the basque and just the plainest of overskirts, without a half yard to spare! This is the way she dressed. It increased the sternness of her appearance. They were very private. They ate alone, and if they wanted to go out on a balcony or anywhere about the inn at which they were stopping everybody was kept out of the way. The German-Americans from the west were simply crazy to speak to him, but not one got a chance. They took their revenge by pitying him more loudly for a henpecked husband than for a dying man.—Tourist in Philadelphia Times.

Working in His Sleep.

A young Australian near Bochara, after an unusually hard day's work sheep shearing, went to sleep on the sitting room couch after supper. Soon he arose, walked out into the darkness, went through four gates, which he carefully closed, to the woodshed, and then hung up his coat and took down his sheep shears and sharpened them. Then he caught a sheep and had just finished shearing it, when some of the household came with a lantern. Then it turned out that he had been asleep all the time, and the light of the lantern awakened him. The sheep was sheared as well as though it had been done in broad daylight.—Chicago News.

Born to the Title.

The vocabulary of French Christian names for girls was severely strained in the selection made by the Duchess d'Auxy for her infant, who is perhaps the only countess ever born to the title in the United States. The duchess before her marriage was Miss Charlotte Antoinette de Cazaune Lamar, a niece of Secretary Lamar, who is the countess' godfather. The baby is launched into life under the burden of this appellation: Countess Ganie Felicite Lucille Belynde Marie Rose Ange.—Cleveland Leader.

Church music in New York city employs not far from 2,000 organists and vocalists, whose annual salaries amount to at least $250,000.

Communication Between Deaf Mutes.

The modes of communication between deaf mutes have received a most important advance from a method recently devised, which consists in each letter of the alphabet being represented by some portion of the palm of the hand. For instance, the eminence between the first and second joints of the index finger corresponds to W, the one between the second and third to M, and so on. The hand thus alphabetically divided is placed palm downward in a mold, whose bottom is perforated with holes which correspond to the lettered parts of the hand. Each of these holes permits of the passage of a small hammer, which is pressed upward by the passage of an electric current. These various hammers are connected with an apparatus similar to the key board of the piano, each key representing a letter, and being connected by wires with the corresponding hammer in the mold. A teacher can spell out the words on the key board, when the hammers fly up through the openings in the bottom of the mold and spell the words by touching the lettered eminences of the hand of a pupil. Any number of molds may be attached to the instrument, and a like number of pupils be simultaneously instructed.—Globe-Democrat.

A Scared Gambler.

Speaking of the late German emperor, M. Albert Wolff says in Le Figaro: "Army officers were not allowed to gamble at Baden-Baden. One evening the king was visiting the tables when he noticed a subordinate in civilian dress trying his luck at trente et quarante. He had placed two or three louis on the table and had won a nice little sum, when he saw the king opposite. He turned pale, trembled and hesitated to take possession of his money. Thereupon King William approached and whispered in his ear: 'Don't be afraid. Take in your money, but don't do it again.'"—New York Tribune.

The Prize Fighters' Methods.

There are still a number of good fighters, men who fight "with their heads," as they call it; meaning thereby not that they butt like rams or negroes, but that they bring the mind to the assistance of the body; they bring to the play of the arm something of the judgment, finesse and strategy that are practiced by eminent professors of the small sword. But these men are exceptional.

The majority of prize fighters have no other idea of boxing than simply to butcher their opponent. The process is performed in two movements. First you rush your man; that is, you run at him, striking right and left, until you have him rattled, and then, at a moment when his action is controlled rather by his physical sensation than by his scientific training, you bring in your round hander on his jugular and knock him out. That is what glove fighting in four rounds amounts to: and the Marquis of Queensberry has done more to degrade the ring than any mere bruiser who ever fought.—Julian Hawthorne in Cosmopolitan.

An African tribe is governed by a ruler who has no tongue. He is not only the king, but the king dumb.

In the Later Stages.

The other night about 8 o'clock a man somewhat the worse for rubbing his vest front too much against the bar was walking with a companion down La Salle street toward the board of trade building.

The big round face of the tower clock, lighted from within, looked down on them from amid utter darkness. No trace of the building could be seen—nothing but the round face of the clock high in air.

"Shay, Bill," said the fatigued person, stopping short, "I guesh you'd better take me home."

"Why?"

"W'l, there's somethin' wrong. Honest, Bill, I kin see readin' on the rim o' the moon."—Chicago News.

Sea of Galilee's Fishes.

The classification of the fishes found in the sea of Galilee has led to the strange discovery that these fishes do not belong to the Mediterranean system, but are peculiar, and belong to the fish system of the great inland lakes of Africa, Tanganyika, Nyassa and the neighboring waters. A writer draws the inference that untold ages ago Jordan valley was filled by a lake which was joined to the Red sea, then a fresh water lake, which in turn was in direct communication with the great lake system of Central Africa.—Home Journal.

Telegraphy by the Clouds.

A remarkable experiment in signaling with electric lights was recently made by the officers of two vessels of the British navy, the Orion and the Espoir, off the port of Singapore. The Espoir had sailed from that port for Hong Kong, leaving the Orion in the harbor of Singapore. When the Espoir was sixty miles distant the Orion sent her a message by means of the electric light.

But can a light be seen sixty miles at sea? Certainly not, in its direct rays; but the Orion threw a brilliant blaze of light upon the clouds, and the reflection of this light was distinctly seen on board the Espoir. More than this, the Orion, having thrown upon the clouds a regular message by means of successive flashes, this message was read and understood on board the Espoir. The question has been asked whether this means of communication might not be made of practical advantage.—Youth's Companion.

A FRIGHTFUL SKIN DISEASE.

Sufferings Intense. Head nearly raw. Body covered with Sores. Cured by the Cuticura Remedies.

MESSRS. STEVENS & BRUNER, Monroe, N. C.

Dear Sirs:—About two months ago, on your recommendation, I bought a bottle of CUTICURA RESOLVENT, one box of CUTICURA SALVE and one cake of CUTICURA SOAP, for my son, aged thirteen years, who has been afflicted with eczema for a long time, and I am pleased to say that I believe the remedies have cured him. His sufferings were intense, his head being nearly raw, his ears being gone except the gristle, and his body was covered with sores. His condition was frightful to behold. The sores have now all disappeared, his skin is healthy, eyes bright, cheerful in disposition, and is working every day. My neighbors are witnesses to this remarkable cure, and the doubting ones are requested to call or write me, or any of my neighbors.

Sneezing Catarrh.

The distressing sneeze, sneeze, sneeze, the acrid watery discharges from the eyes and nose, the painful inflammation extending to the throat, the swelling of the mucous lining, causing choking sensations, cough, ringing noises in the head and splitting headaches—how familiar these symptoms are to thousands who suffer periodically from head colds or influenza, and who live in ignorance of the fact that a single application of SANFORD'S RADICAL CURE FOR CATARRH will afford instantaneous relief.

But this treatment in case of simple Catarrh gives but a faint idea of what this remedy will do in the chronic forms, where the breathing is obstructed by choaking, putrid mucous accumulations, the hearing affected, smell and taste gone, throat ulcerated and hacking cough gradually fastening itself upon the debilitated system. Then it is that the marvellous curative power of SANFORD'S RADICAL CURE manifests itself in instantaneous and grateful relief. Cure begins from the first application. It is rapid, radical, permanent, economical, safe.

SANFORD'S RADICAL CURE consists of one bottle of the RADICAL CURE, one box CATARRHAL SOLVENT and an IMPROVED INHALER: price, $1.
